

A gem of an idea

After 30 years in California I have now moved back to Switzerland – and I love it! My passion for gems and crystals has taken me from a long career as a gemologist and jewellery designer in Hollywood and Beverly Hills to become a crystal healer, a trained shamanic practitioner and a channeler.

I am currently writing a book about the heartfelt messages I receive from my spirit helper team. I work as a shamanic energy healer and help my worldwide clients create a placement of crystals in their homes that will balance energies and improve their lives.

I hope to entice the Aiglon alumni community to work with crystals – these are such a wonderful source of wellness and joy! See you soon, I hope – I look forward to hearing from you. Blessings and good wishes to all.

Sandra Muller (Exeter, 1978)